Research Methodology

The researcher intend to use the primary data and secondary data.

A) Primary Data :-

1) Questionnaire – First set of questionnaire will be prepared for the beneficiaries to collect the information regarding their financial and social aspects. For this purpose 100 beneficiaries will be selected randomly.

2) For the comparative study of branches second questionnaire study will be prepared for
   The Branch Managers and for that purpose 5 (five) branches will be selected.

3) In order to collect information of bank, questionnaire will be prepared for Chief Executive Officer.

4) Interviews – To know about the real nature of Rajgurunagar Sahakari Bank.
   Some interviews will be held with Staff, Directors etc regarding issues under study.

B) Secondary Data :-

Over and above the primary sources, secondary sources will also utilised. The secondary data will be collected from following sources.

1) Study the various records of bank

2) Various books of account and other registers maintained by bank.

3) Journals and Magazines

4) Annual reports of Bank.
The relevant information and data will be collected from both published and unpublished documents. For this purpose the following libraries will be used:

1) Arts Commerce And Science College Narayangaon (Pune)
2) Hutatma Rajguru Mahavidyalaya Rajgurunagar (Pune)
3) Jaikar Library – University Of Pune
4) VMNICOM – Pune (Vaikunth Mehata National Institute of Co-operative Management)

4. Research Design

In order to do research work of Rajgurunagar Sahakari Bank the following chapters have been planned.

1) Introduction – Theoretical background of co-operative bank and Rajgurunagar Sahakari Bank Ltd.

2) Review of the literature

3) Growth of branches of Rajgurunagar Sahakari Bank Ltd

4) Organisation and Management of Bank

5) Financial position /Profitability of Bank

6) Ratio analysis of Annual Report

7) Findings of the study

8) Conclusions and suggestions