Objective of the present work

Keeping in view the need, background and purpose of the study, following objectives are being listed:

1. To study the existing wet coal management system in coal handling plant of Mahagenco.
2. To standardize the wet coal management process in coal handling plant.
3. To compare the performance of different wet coal management process in different coal handling plants.
4. To identify the problem associated in wet coal management and to suggest solution to overcome it.