Objectives

The present study aims to achieve the following objectives -

- To understand the importance of communication for the management graduates
- To understand the requirements of communication skills training for students from different educational backgrounds
- To identify which communication skills should be of special emphasis for different educational background of students