Objectives of the study

1. To assess emotionally matured adolescents would be high on extraversion that is a personality trait than the emotionally immature adolescents.
2. To explore emotionally matured adolescents would be high on openness to experience that is personally trait than the emotionally immature adolescent.
3. To assess emotionally matured adolescents would be high on agreeableness that is personality traits than the emotionally immature adolescent.
4. To assess emotionally matured adolescents would be high on conscientiousness that is personality traits than the emotionally immature adolescent.
5. To assess emotionally matured adolescent would be low on neuroticism that is personality traits than the emotionally immature adolescents.
6. To assess emotionally matured adolescents would be low on introversion that is personality traits than the emotionally immature adolescents.
7. To explore Internet addicted adolescents would be low on extraversion than the internet non-addicted adolescents.
8. To explore Internet addicted adolescents would be low on openness to experience that is personality traits than the internet non addicted adolescents.
9. To explore Internet addicted adolescents would be low on agreeableness, a personality trait than the Internet non addicted adolescents.
10. To explore Internet addicted adolescents would be low on conscientiousness a personality than the internet non addicted adolescents.
11. To explore the internet addicted adolescents would be high on neuroticism than the internet non addicted adolescents.
12. To explore The Internet addicted adolescents would be high on introversion than the internet non addicted adolescents.
13. To explore there would be interaction between Internet addicted adolescents and emotional maturity of adolescents.
14. To explore there would be interaction between adolescents of internet non addicted and emotional maturity of adolescents.